DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-5, 7-12, 14-17, 19, 21-23, 25-27, 29, 30, 32-36, 38, 39, 41-47 and 49-51 are allowed over the prior arts.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
 - a. Applicant teach discloses a system for executing a rental software program in a distributed computing environment is provided that is capable of reducing both the storage space required for the software program in a user computer system and the start-up time of the program in the user computer system. The system employs program files associated with the rental software program that are provided by a server computer system that include an on-demand scheme and a user-transparent program install-free technology. Applicant's invention is novel and innovative in the sense that the system provides a process manager for manager flushing the main executable file and the optional files of the rental software program from the user computer system so that the rental software program is removed from the user computer system when the rental is completed. The prior art Hughes (U.S. PG Pub No. 2005/0198239) teach a method and apparatus for operating a computer system including at least a server and a client that are connected to each other by a type of connection. Benson (U.S. Patent No. 6,334,118) teach a software rental system and method are provided having at least one rented program permitting at least one service to a customer with a customer's response means. The rented program has no access to a customer's private keying material. Using asymmetric cryptography, the customer's response means proves to the rented program that the customer's response means has access to the customer's private keying material. The rented program does not permit the at least one service to the customer unless the proof is successful. Hughes taken alone or in combination with Benson fail to teach or suggest a system provides a process manager for manager flushing the main executable file and the optional files of the rental software program from the user computer system so that the rental software program is removed from the user computer system when the rental is completed as a claimed by the Applicant.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
